Justification for Changes without Regulatory Effect:

The New Motor Vehicle Board (“Board”) reviewed its regulations and determined that there are several opportunities for cleanup.

These regulatory changes qualify as Title 1, CCR, section 100 changes because they do “not materially alter any requirement, right, responsibility, condition, prescription or other regulatory element” of any California Code of Regulations provision due to their non-material nature.

The Board recently moved to the Department of Motor Vehicles headquarters. Therefore, any references to the Board’s former address must be updated.

References to gender specific language are being amended to be gender neutral.

None of the proposed amendments are substantive, nor do they “materially alter any requirement, right, responsibility, condition, prescription or other regulatory element” of any regulatory provision due to their non-material nature.
